

A unique approach to difficult-to-dress wounds

Triad is a sterile coating that can be applied anywhere, adheres to wet skin, and keeps the wound covered.

Wounds on irregular surfaces

Broken skin in the presence of incontinence

Maceration of periwound skin

Necrotic tissue such as slough or eschar

TRIAD APPLICATION:

1. Always cleanse the wound before applying Triad.

2. Triad can be applied directly from the tube or by using a gloved finger.

3. Gently spread Triad evenly over the area of application to the thickness of a dime.

Because Triad is designed for use on wet and irregular surfaces, it is typically used on its own without a secondary dressing.

Triad may not always dry completely and some light staining on bed linens or garments might occur.

Triad can stay in place for up to 7 days, with higher exudate levels requiring more frequent re-applications.

In the perineal area, reapply Triad after each episode of incontinence. Triad does not need to be removed completely before reapplying.

TRIAD REMOVAL:

1. Use pH-balanced wound cleanser to soften Triad.

2. Gently wipe to remove without scrubbing.

3. For complete removal repeat as needed.
